CHARGERS

Reflecting upon the theme Double Images, the '88 Cavalier staff pairs up to produce a book of lasting images

Double Images

Allen County Public Library
Ft. Wayne, Indiana

It is the year of '88, a Double Eight Image. And, with the addition of the new Carroll Junior High, the buildings are now a Double Image on Carroll Road. This year's theme Double Images is appropriate because Carroll is a country school but at the same time enjoys many of the pleasures of city life . . . the school being located only ten miles north of Fort Wayne.

The entire student body also contributes to the concept by putting forth a Double effort in sports, Doubling performances in academics, and Doubling efforts to improve overall relationships with each other.

The yearbook staff presents to you the Double Great 88 yearbook, Double Images.

School Spirit more than doubles as Juniors Jennie Brincefield and Kelly Strunk along with Sophomore Stephanie Silver display their Hawaiian attire celebrating the third day of Homecoming week.

Women tackle Men's Turf!

The juniors and seniors tangled in the annual Powder Puff game. "Can you imagine, girls playing football . . . how amusing!" As junior fans sat in the guest bleachers and the senior supporters filled the home side, Senior June Winkler and Junior Kim Brennan scored their own victories.

The team's spirits held the audience spellbound until the final buzzer, ending the game in a disappointing tie.

At the first annual Powder Puff Prince's contest Troy Fry was crowned Prince. The Powder Puff court consisted of seniors Brad Walleen, Kip Kuhn, Mark Denny, Buddy Huffaker, Troy Fry, Matt Freck, Kevin Kohart, and James Zehr.

Students are looking forward to next year's game and to seeing who will be crowned Prince.

Senior Troy Fry is congratulated by nominee Matt Freck as he is awarded Powder Puff Prince '87.

Planning out their strategy Seniors Jenny Renshaw and Molly Roe (Vincent) pick one another for the game ahead.

Escorted by Jennifer Stenger, Senior Mark Denny is presented as a nominee for Powder Puff Prince during the halftime events.

Senior Sarah Meehan and Mary Thonert embrace to celebrate a touchdown made moments before by Senior June Winkler.

IT'S A WIPE- OUT!

What do a sexist football game, a dance, days of the week to dress goofy, supper, and royal courts have to do with Carroll?—They all add up to Homecoming. In preparation for the annual Homecoming football game and dance comes a season called Spirit Week. During those few days students went wild dressing in garb varying from the annual blue and white, 50's, Coca-Cola, doctor-patient, and Hawaiian.

One special evening

the junior and senior girls made a mock of the Carroll High School football team during the annual Powder Puff game. Later in the week came the Chili Supper starting off the evening festivities which included the game against Columbia City and the crowning of the Queen. After the game came the dance which closed the long week of activities. But the image of this years Spirit Week truly reflected the school spirit and remains in these pictures.

Double Pleasure

Following the game students had the pleasure of attending "Wipe Out," A beach party sponsored by Student Council. Laeis were passed out as students arrived at this fun event.

The mood for the evening was a night of dancing under the stars. The Homecoming Court joined in on this excitement. As the queen, Senior Sherri Hefner, danced with her father she reminisced about the night's events: how she anticipated her father's arrival from California and how she wondered who the lucky queen would be. This night was perfect.

Supporting the Athletic Department many fans attend the chili supper.

Seniors June Winkler and Jill Harris catch the wave at the big dance.

Dual Event

Homecoming once again, and once again changes were made. An end was put to the extravagant cars that paraded the girls around the track, and also to the fireworks during half time. The question was, "Would this change the excitement of homecoming?" Senior Trisha Koeneman felt that "although a few arrangements would be different from the past, everyone should have a great time."

And so they did! At seven o'clock the stands were already packed with high-spirited fans. The anticipation that each girl felt was high as she awaited half time and the crowning of the queen. When Senior Karla Fadden was asked who she thought the queen would be, her reply was, "Good question. I really don't know. It's gonna be close!"

Half time arrived and good luck was wished to seniors Trisha Koeneman, Sherrie Fisher, Darci Ray, Carrie Bobilya, June Winkler, Jill Harris, and congratulations went out to Sharri Hefner, our new queen.

Homecoming is more than just the crowning of the queen. A very tough football game was fought between the Chargers and the Columbia City Eagles. The Chargers went into half time with a lead of just one point. The score at halftime was 7-6. Unfortunately, the Eagles gained another touchdown along with the extra point making the final score 13-7. The Chargers' touchdown was made by Senior Rod Myers.

DOUBLE

Students Lead

Many Carroll Students lead Double Lifestyles. Take Shelia Schneider for example. She has been involved in 4-H since the age of nine. "I love the farm," Shelia reveals. She has lived on a farm her entire life and enjoys helping raise pigs, feedlot cattle, cows, chickens, steers, and turkeys.

In the summer of 1987 she placed in the 4-H fair by winning Grand Champion Steer. "It takes a lot of time, but it's worth it!" In the future she plans to work part-time on a farm of her own.

Debi Smith, a junior at Carroll, has been studying dance since the age of four. She attends dance classes in tap, jazz, ballet, Hawaiian, Tahitian, and pointe. She also teaches eleven dance classes each week.

This a wonderful background for her participants in Pom pons at Carroll. Debi made the squad her freshman year and plans to continue through her senior year.

She hopes to go to Ball State University and attend their "good dance program" to earn a degree in choreography.

Double Lives

Junior Rob Smith also adds to Carroll's diverse student body with his involvement in Drama.

From leads in elementary plays, taking classes at the Civic Youth Theatre, working with props, background design, and small roles, he has now worked up to performing at Arena Dinner Theatre.

He has appeared in "Under the Gaslight," "Guys and Dolls," and "Brighton Beach Memoirs."

Sophomore Paul Johnson is a very active and talented student at Carroll. He finds himself "constantly going."

Besides being involved with the Student Council and playing baseball and football for Carroll, he plays on his church's softball team and is a member of 4-H. Paul also plows, disks, and combines on his family's 3,000 acre farm. He also is working toward a College Prep Diploma.

Paul loves to keep busy. Looking into the future Paul answered without hesitation that he would attend Indiana University for college years. He hopes to either become a science teacher and a coach or a doctor, preferably a dentist but definitely "nothing really gross."

Sophomore Amy Benson and Senior Gary Hess are also performing double duties.

Amy's goal is to become a "high-tech secretary." She is preparing for this by working toward both the high school Business Diploma as well as the College Prep Diploma.

This year she is the president of the Business Club and is also her second in Explorer's. Last year she was honored with "Post Member Award of the year" for her leadership abilities and her involvement in the Allen County Explorer's Club.

Gary Hess is also planning on entering the business field. "I'm interested and good with numbers."

His goal is to earn a CPA degree. He has also been a member of Junior Achievement the past two years.

These six students are just a sample of the talent, creativity, and ambition of Carroll students.

Perform it Again, Thespians

The 1987 Fall Play, Play it Again, Sam, by Woody Allen was very well acted; therefore, comedy was at its best. Director Brad McAlexander along with the student director Senior Dena Felger did a great job with getting everyone together and adding tiny details for comic effect.

Play it Again, Sam contains every literary element possible: wit, humor, anger, and delight. It had examples of many problems married or single people today face: sex, love, hate, divorce, fights, and even drugs.

The play begins as the main character Allen Felix, played by Sophomore Chad DeWitt, is having problems accepting divorce. Therefore, his friends Dick and Linda Christie, played by Juniors Rob Smith and Candace McGroarty, try to help him out. But let's not forget the minor characters and crew. Everyone pitched in to achieve its goals: to comically entertain the audience while having a good time.

Brad McAlexander commented: "Saturday and Sunday were the most outstanding performances that I've ever been associated with as a director."

Summer Storms,

"... Summer storms and winter skies used to make me feel good inside. Used to be on a hot summer day it would get so sticky I couldn't breathe. Then came a low rumble and a few flashes from far away would light up the whole sky: it would be streaked with pink and yellow, and the grass would be extra green. I could feel the storm coming. I'd sit on the porch swing and wait for it; and when I heard the first crack of thunder it was thrilling. — And in the winter, when days grew short, the sky stretched out vast and majestic-like. Now the sky is bleak, ... cold. Now storms frighten me. I know it sounds crazy, but, — don't you see, Susan? — The beauty of the storm and the sky, — everything — everything's falling away from me ... even you. And Grandma, Grandma's falling the fastest of all ... Hang on, Grandma ... hang on, Grandma. — Grandma!" — Estie

The Semi-formal and the Morp both were a big success as people met to have a great time and dance to their favorite tunes. The junior class sponsored the Morp to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom. It was held in Carroll's commons on February 27, 1988 and Junior Mike Picco was the d.j. Another gleaming highlight was the Student Council's Semi-formal at Wallen Pines on December 12, 1987. This time the band was "No Turning Back".

NEVER SAY GOODBYE

Another prom is over and again congratulations should go out to the Juniors for another well-organized prom. Carroll's 1988 Junior-Senior prom was held on Friday the twenty-ninth of April in the Walb Memorial Union Ballroom (IPFW Ballroom). Couples danced the night away to the music of the band, No Turning Back, while the green and silver decorations swayed in the breeze.

Even though the prom did go well, it is the after prom that most people remember. Most people's after prom consisted of partying with others in a hotel or at the lake while others went to Kings Island as Senior Trisha Koeneman and Sophomore John Parker did. The memories of after prom will remain in everyone's minds but for try the wild side of life and visited Chicago. Where were you the week of April the third? This year Carroll students found themselves in many different places over Spring Break, but they all had one thing in common: they had fun! . . . Senior Todd Findley wins the prize for the farthest traveler. Todd traveled to Europe with his father. While some of us enjoyed basking in the sun, Todd enjoyed snow skiing the mountains of Europe and taking in the sights of Germany and Austria. . . . Junior Suzy Leonard and senior Joe Rudolph each vacationed to Hawaii over Spring Break. Needless to say, they both returned to Fort Wayne sporting genuine tropical tans. . . . Several students including Juniors Teresa Eley, Mark Stauffer, and Jodi Wiseman also toured Washington D.C. over their break. They saw our capital's government buildings and historical sights and managed to have their share of fun too! . . . And, of course, Florida was once again the traditional hot spot. There "breakers" enjoyed warm weather and plenty of sunshine. Sixteen students from Carroll journeyed to the Sunshine State with Campus Life to the Youth for Life Camp in Vero Beach. Many others headed down by car, enjoying the beach during the day and hitting the town by night. . . . Last but not least, there were those who decided to save a little cash and vacation in good ol' Ft. Wayne. They found out just how much more exciting the Fort can be when school's out, and even enjoyed a day of tanning themselves! . . . Upon returning to school on Monday, most students agreed that no matter where they spent their Spring Break, the memories would cause them to be anxious for SUMMER! — Gina Brown

Court OKs censoring

The censorship decision put students in fear when the Supreme Court declared public school officials had the right to censor school newspapers. High school journalists claim this decision is a restriction and a violation of the First Amendment.

The principal of a school in Hazelwood, Mo., stopped the students from publishing articles on teenage pregnancy and divorce. The court said, "Students had no legal right to publish articles of this type. Students do not have the same rights that adults do."

"Official censorship" was declared by government officials and Justice Williams Brennan Jr., the court's liberal leader.

AIDS was a growing concern over the nation during 1987-88. The media carried many stories relating the difficulties of AIDS victims from symptoms, treatment, the high cost of health care, to possible legislation.

According to Newsweek November 24, 1986, an estimated five million may be carrying the AIDS virus in 1991. AIDS stands for "Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome." Carroll teachers were given training and information about this new threat and also were told to use the medical rubber gloves supplied to them in case of any classroom emergency.

This was in the news because AIDS now kills 60,000 Americans a year.

As we all know, this was the year for leap year which occurs every four years. We took our calendar from the Romans who began with the idea that twelve months equal one year. The Romans had figured the year came to 354 days but the true solar year is just under 365½ days. The Romans would just add an extra month every year for this difference. When Caesar ruled Rome, he had ordered that each year should be 365 days with an extra day added in Feb. every fourth year. This is what we call Leap Year. This made our months equal 30 or 31 days except for February.

ANARCHY

"What? No Principal?!" said several students when entering Carroll High School for the first day of school. Carroll High School went several weeks with Mr. Gorsuch in charge. Mr. John Sayers, Carroll's newest principal, started September 22, 1987. Before moving to Fort Wayne, Sayers had lived and taught in Peru, IN. When talking to Mr. Sayers, he always enjoys what he's talking about although he seems serious.

We hope Mr. Sayers likes the atmosphere that Carroll has to offer and wish him the best of luck with his new job.

Let me not to the marriage of true minds
 Admit impediments. Love is not love
 Which alters when it alteration finds
 Or bends with the remover to remove
 O no it will ever fixed mark
 That looks on tempests and is never shaken,
 It is the star to every wand'ring bark,
 Whose worth's unknown,
 Although his height be taken
 Love's not Time's fool, though rosy lips

 Within his bending sickle's compass come,
 Love alters not with his brief hour and weeks,
 But bears it out even to the edge of doom.

Verbal Victory

The English language is the basis of all communication. Perfecting that language is the task of English, speech, and drama teachers.

Drama involves communication between actors and audience. According to drama teacher Mrs. Baker, "When the magic happens and the audience gets caught up in another time, another place, it's because actors have communicated words, ideas, feelings among each other; and the audience, too, shares in that process."

The speech team works on mechanics such as sharpening the voice and developing appropriate posture and gestures, strengthening techniques to capture an audience, and increasing self confidence.

Speech and drama skills—two aspects of language—are very important. Yet the basics of grammar and literature make these enrichment areas of communication effective.

Although English is necessary for students' academic skills, not everyone likes it. Sophomore Nicole Meinzen said, "I don't like English because year after year you learn the same things and it gets boring."

However, Senior Rod Goelz said, "My grammar has improved so much that in twenty years while I'm reading the paper with my son, I can say, 'Look, son, there's a dangling participle.'" —Lori Noffze

Warm Blooded

Have you ever wondered who sponsors and organizes a majority of school-wide events? — Student Council is responsible for such events as Homecoming, Lock-In, Semi-formal Dance, Walk of Fame, and the Bloodmobile Drive. With ten representatives and four officers from each class and four student body officers, Student Council meets monthly to plan events to better school spirit. Student Council also acts as a "go-between" among students, staff, and administrators.

Junior Vaughn Kauffman commented, "I like Student Council because I can help plan all the activities. Instead of teachers planning all the events, students get to plan them and make them events other students will enjoy." Student Council also does several community projects such as Christmas Caroling at Irene Byron Health Center, Food and Can Drive and helping out during the Arthritis Foundation Drive. Student Council is truly a helpful and "warm-blooded" group of students.

DOUBLE DRIBBLE

Imagine this . . . You're dribbling down the basketball court, five seconds left on the clock, the team is down by one, and the court is clear. You're about to take the shot that could win the game when you are "accidentally" jabbed sharply in the side by an opponent's elbow. No one notices the intentional "slip of arms" and the game is lost.

What would you do?

- A. Act as if it was no big deal and make no comment about it.
- B. Complain to your teammates and/or coach after the game, but let it end there.

- C. Tell the referee that he is blind and doesn't know the difference between a basketball court and a golf course.
- D. Get the opponent in a headlock and threaten to kill him if he doesn't admit to the referees that truth about jabbing you in the side.

Well, most of us would prefer to do a combination of "C" and "D", probably, but the members of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) would most likely take a different approach; one that supports their beliefs.

Under the direction of Kent Lockmueller, the FCA has become a backbone to many high school student athletes. Through their meetings they look at different aspects of game playing; what to do . . . what not to do . . . Their goal is to achieve a healthy balance of competition and sportsmanship that will make the game fun for all. — Missy Hoover

CULTURE SHOCK

Traveling to either Mexico or France, Carroll students learned that experience is a great teacher.

"I was impressed with the art and architecture," comments Junior Teresa Eley remembering her trip to Paris, France, sponsored by the Lions Club.

Junior Christy Baker enjoyed her family's trip to France and adds that "they even had a McDonald's!"

Senior Jody Matthias also travelled to France through the Indiana State University Honors Program.

The American Leadership Study Group included Senior Sharri Hefner in their trip to Paris. She comments that "the people are more open and more willing to take chances with things they say, wear, and do."

Through ICEP, IBEROAMERICAN Cultural Exchange Program, Seniors Craig Pawlowski, Tim Dawson, and Christy Bowers visited Mexico for six weeks along with Junior Sara Kubik. Both Tim and Sara agree that, in Tim's words, "At first it's hard to communicate with them but once you're able to understand them, they would talk and I would say, 'Hey, I understood that!'" — Kristi King

are where you belong. After all, in what other class do you have the opportunity to 'make your cake and eat it,

Contrary to popular belief, Home Ec and Foods classes both involve more than just cooking. The study of nutrition and the four basic food groups are a main focus in Foods. In the first semester, students learn about various diseases that result from vitamin deficiencies. They also learn what foods are necessary for a well-balanced diet. In Foods II, there is much less "bookwork" and more actual kitchen time. Students learn proper cooking techniques and are also required to give a demonstration for the class.

When asked why they took Foods class, students had varying opinions. One senior girl, who wishes to remain nameless, says she takes the class because, "It's easy and we get to eat." However, Junior Brooke Bechler's purpose was more legitimate, "... I am currently taking a class at Regional Vocational School and plan on becoming a chef. I thought this class would give me experience for the future."

Toll House Double Chocolate Brownies

- 3/4 cup unsifted flour
- 1/4 measuring teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 measuring teaspoon salt
- 1/3 cup butter
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 measuring tablespoons water
- One 12-oz. pkg. (2 cups) Nestlé Semi-Sweet Real Chocolate Morsels,[®] divided
- 1 measuring teaspoon vanilla extract
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Preheat oven to 325 F. In small bowl, combine flour, baking soda and salt, set aside. In small saucepan, combine butter, sugar and water, bring just to a boil. Remove from heat. Add 6-oz. (1 cup) Nestlé Semi-Sweet Real Chocolate Morsels and vanilla extract. Stir until morsels melt and mixture is smooth. Transfer to large bowl. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Gradually blend in flour mixture. Stir in remaining 1 cup Nestlé Semi-Sweet Real Chocolate Morsels and nuts. Spread into greased 9" square baking pan.

BAKE at: 325 F. TIME: 30-35 minutes
Cool completely. Cut into 2-1/4" squares.
Makes sixteen 2-1/4" squares.

Social Scene

Government, history, psychology, substance abuse, and sociology are all social studies classes. Social Studies is the involvement of the world around us — what we do and who we are — also what makes us human.

Government students study the branches of our own system and forming their own elections.

In U.S. History students learn what our ancestors did when they first came to this brand new land of freedom.

Psychology tries to explain why people act the way they do.

Substance abuse teaches students to become more aware of drug uses and effects.

Sociology is the study of nature and human development of society.

These are very important in our lives: to know our past, to see where we have been, to see our future, and to know where we are going

"Although being a librarian is a busy job, I enjoy working with Carroll students", said sponsor Mrs. Whetsel.

There are many events that take place in Media Club such as candy sells and an annual Spring Banquet. In late Spring a banquet is sponsored by the club in honor of graduating Seniors. Two awards are given out to students who have worked in the library and have been outstanding as a typist or media assistant.

Office workers are an asset to both to the Media Staff and the Carroll Student Body.

"It is pretty fun! If anyone asked me whether or not they should join, I would encourage it", said Lindy Carlson.

“Truisms”

There are many students at Carroll High School who plan to major in business. Many students take a variety of Business Classes offered such as typing, shorthand, and accounting, and many more.

Many also include the basic math classes along with their business classes. They take such things such as Algebra I, and II, Geometry, Trigonometry, and Calculus.

These math and business classes are designed not only as a double combination for those majoring in business, but a double benefit for those who are going into fields where a math class or two would come in handy.

Many students consider math “no fun”. Well, Mr. Beard, a geometry teacher, puts some fun into this class. At the beginning of the year his students are told about a Martian carborator. Unfortunately, they are not told where the carborator came from. He has certain conditions under which the students can learn about it. There must be a clean sheet of snow on the ground with absolutely no marks in it. Unfortunately, that does not happen often. Therefore, students must wait until the end of the year to find out where Mr. Beard’s Martian carborator actually came from.

Science: Why take it?

Science, — why take it? There are many students that take a science class because they say "There's nothing else to take."

Here are other comments about Science. Junior LeAnn Collier: "It will prepare me for my career. Miss Black balances class time with labs, work sessions and discussions. She even lets us write feed back about the chapter." Senior Dena Felger: "I like the way chemicals react, demonstrations, labs and a teacher that really cares." Sophomore Mark Siegwarth: "I like the class because the teacher makes it fun." Junior Scott Taylor: "I like when Eric and I fool around, breaking tubes and lab materials. Also you can get an F on a test and a C in class because of a lab."

"Mr. Potter's method of teaching allows the students to fully understand the universe. It also opens new doors in my future quest to understand Stellar Astronomy," states Sophomore Deven Kumar. "My favorites are elements and experiments in our lab," Junior Jennifer Bassett said.

More reasons why students take science: Sophomore Paul Okeson said, "Earth Science is a very well-taught class and the school is better for it." Junior Courtney Reeve conveyed the idea that the teacher, people, and the atmosphere are all very exciting to her.

On a lighter note, Junior Joel Borton said with a smile, "The fact that chemistry is spelled with a "ch" instead of a "k". Also because good-looking girls in mini-skirts take chem." According to Debi Smith, "Miss Black understands us and lets us get away with most things." So even though some students don't enjoy science, it's obvious that many students do. — Suzy Butterbaugh

“Double Time”

“Band! Hun! Mark Time, Mark! Forward March!, Halt!, About Face! Double Time!” If one were to be yelled these commands, given a drum beat, and told to ‘Head Out’, nightmares of being in the army might come to his mind. However, 62 students had to experience this “army-type setting” for several months during marching season.

The Carroll Marching Band performs for all the home football games as well as marching in several parades throughout the year. Although the Freshman class is no longer at the high school, they continued to march with the band during these games and parades as well as performing during the basketball season as a pep band. Everything worked out really well with the switch except that a problem arose with practice scheduling. Normally practice is held during the class in school, but with the two schools, practice was switched to after school. Junior LeAnn Collier stated that “the freshman year is a learning experience; and without being in the high school, the freshmen loose all the things you learn from being with all the students in band.”

Besides entertaining for athletic events, the band also performs for special concerts which are held throughout the year.

This year the Future Farmers of America are going to receive a special page capturing this year's double-great events.

The unusual look of this page illustrates the hard work put into the FFA scrapbook. This scrapbook is a memorandum of every event in which FFA chapter participates. After the year is completed, the book is entered in state and regional competitions. This contest is known as the District III Leadership Contest. Carroll's FFA chapter placed a strong second this year.

The FFA chapter is a group of people who is not only serious farmers but they are a family. They are hardworking, quite talented, and uniquely unified. They meet once a month to discuss how their crops are producing or how their livestock is growing. They work together to better the lives of the farmers. 'Shop' for 'Wood'

Although woods and shop are separate courses, they are both classes where creativity is important.

Woods is a year course which starts out with learning safety and skill development. Second semester deals with manufacturing designs and then marketing a product.

This product was chosen out of three which were nominated by the students and the community. There were five activity areas that made a manufacturing corporation: Research and Development, Production, Industrial, Financial Affairs, and Marketing. The product started from an idea and was produced for a market. These skills can open doors to jobs in industrial trade, management, or quality control.

When asked, "What is your approach to class room teaching?" Mr. Norton responded, "I want to establish a happy medium which would be considered both contemporary and traditional."

Shop is also a class in which safety is a must. A student can walk into a math class and know he or she won't run any risk of being hurt, but in shop it is essential to listen.

Self-sufficiency is a major concern for three to six weeks. There is a tremendous amount of work on projects done and there are many branches of shop. There are Welding I and II, Engines I and II, Construction of buildings, Equipment Maintenance, Painting and Electrical Wiring to name a few.

Carroll High School graduates are prepared for future occupations such as welders, mechanics, and Agricultural Business.

Double Roles

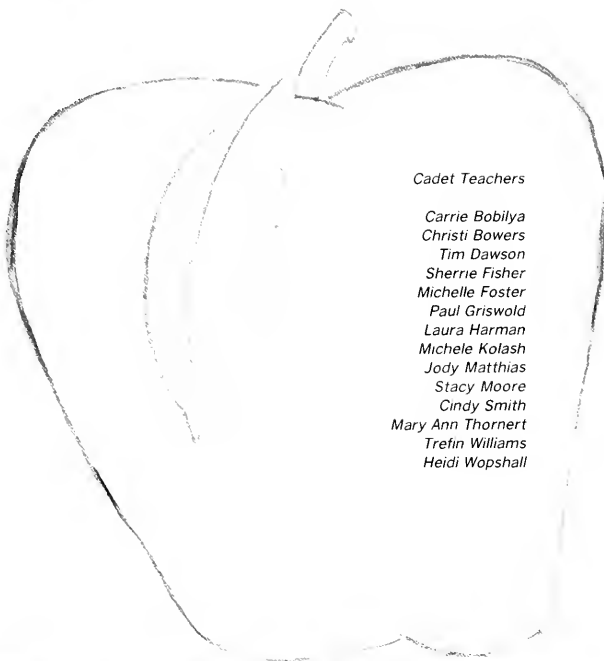

Many students at Carroll are taking advantage of Cadet Teaching. Cadet Teaching gives them the hands-on experience in the career they have chosen.

Students from Carroll Cadet teach at the various schools: Perry Hill, Huntertown, Carroll Junior High, or Carroll High School.

Cadet teaching is open to all students during their senior year. They must be approved by their counselors before being able to complete their schedule. If they are approved, they are under the supervision of a classroom teacher for one semester.

Through Cadet Teaching, students learn the responsibilities of a career in education but also they learn the glory of seeing the students faces light up when they realize they have figured out the correct answer on their own.

Building Our Future

Regional Vocational School, ICE, and Dollar Skills are all cooperative education courses for students who are interested in hands-on experience in preparation for careers and college after high school.

RVS is available for Fort Wayne Community Schools and other students from the surrounding area. These programs are available for juniors and seniors who attend on a half-day schedule and earn up to six credits per semester.

ICE is to assist students in entry-level employment. The term "co-op" is used to describe the relationships between school, student, and employer.

Dollar Skills I is an in-school working atmosphere for students to prepare them for outside work. In Dollar Skills II students learn both in school and out. In-school work helps students with their attitudes and how to hold jobs.

All of these courses are to help build the future of students; and if a loss of employment occurs the student will lose the credit for that course. These classes are not just for a blow-off; they are here to help build careers.—Brooke Bechler

CREATIVITY

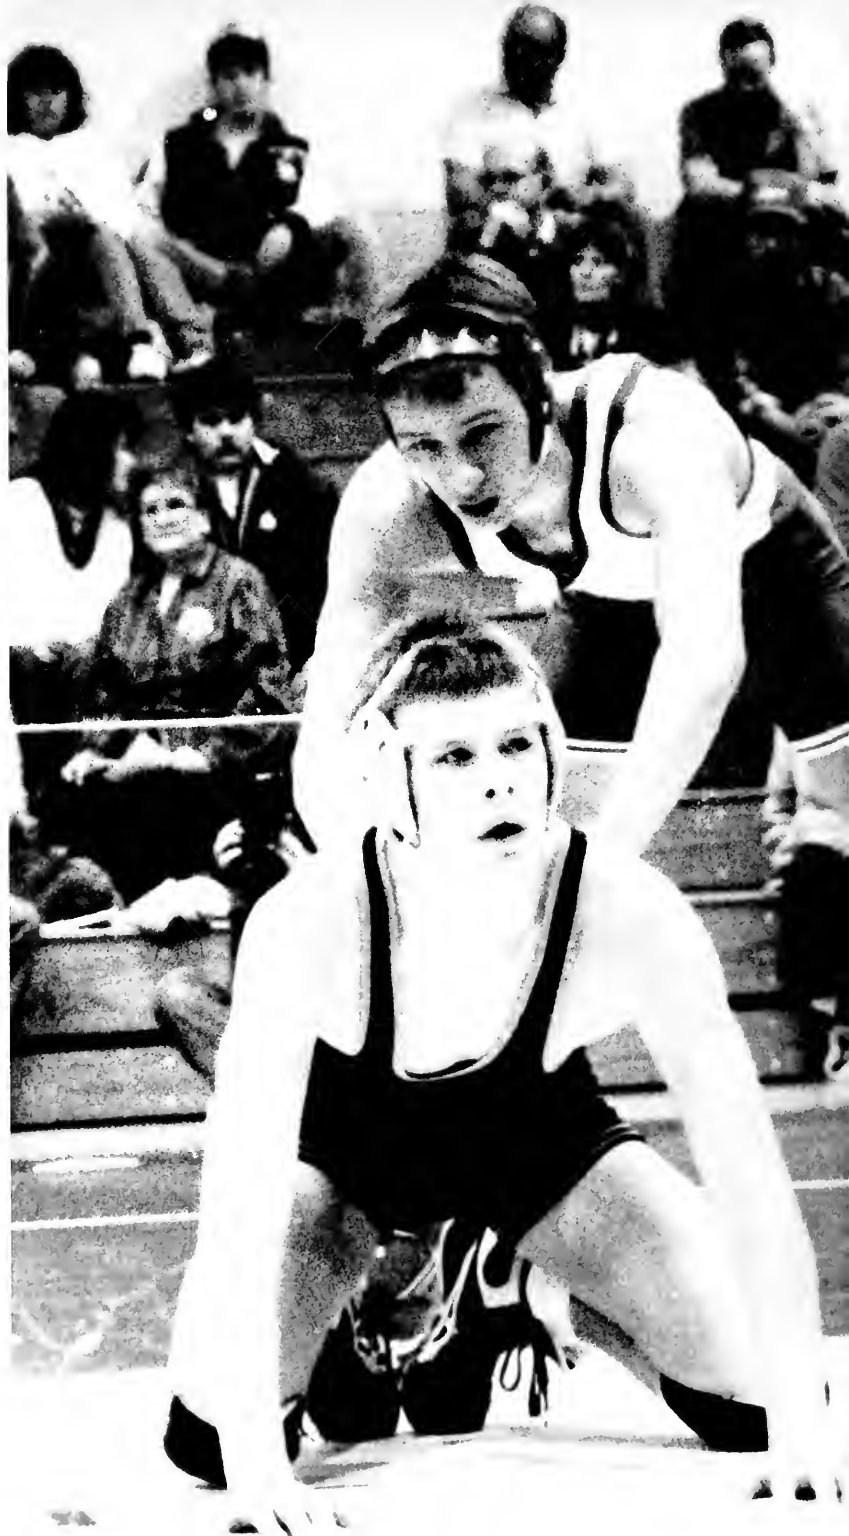

When you look at a drawing or a painting what do you see? Everyone sees something different in any piece of work.

If you look up art in the dictionary it says "... the conscious use of skill and creative imagination ... " And that's exactly what it is.

Art cannot be stereotyped as one particular thing, for each type of art is viewed differently in each person's eyes. — Sheila Maloley

POWERHOUSE IMAGE

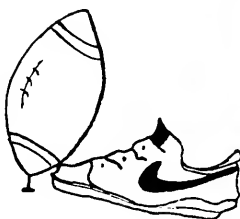

What a spectacular year the 1987 football team had. While they were concentrating on winning sectionals, the school support was doubling.

Decorating doors, painting faces and having pep-sessions contributed to the attitude of the football players. "We had a strong team this year ... and the overall spirit of our school helped my players school spirit rise," said Coach Ed Fox.

Even though they had five injured players, this years team advanced farther than any other previous football team at Carroll.

"The spirit of the school contributed to us reaching Sectionals," says junior Phillip Moehle.

All In Good Time

According to Senior Michele Hedges, Coach George McKinney has directed her to "Never say can't." Evidently this motivated her to her best time of 16:23 at Shoaff Park where she ran against a definite goal and previous competitor from Garrett and beat her.

Junior Chris Bornkamp finished with a good time of 17:23 at the Manchester Semi-state meet. Chris says, "Everyone must concentrate on doing good in every race," and he intends to concentrate on next year's performance as well.

Senior Molly Roe was pleased that this year "we have just enough to make a team, individually we all had to perform well to help us place high as a team." Sophomore Kim Lawson performed very well placing seventeenth at State.

"For volleyball to work the team has to work together, not as individuals." Junior Jill Stevenson reflects a very important principle of volleyball: together, you can win; separately, you lose.

This is more than an unspoken principle. Before each game team members form a circle, reaching out to each other and with one giant handshake shout the word, "Together!"

The payoff was an outstanding season with 29 wins and 17 losses. Holding a perfect record of 7 wins and no losses as the Lady Chargers entered the ACAC tournament, they placed second to Leo. They had a good season . . . together.

Teeing Off

The men's golf played well enough to finish second on the all-time list at Carroll. The team put forth a double effort practicing not only after school but also on the weekends.

Senior Shane "Lenny" Marker exemplified this through his dedication. He practiced three hours after school and six on weekends.

This is one reason why the golf members achieved their high level of success winning ACAC, Sectionals, Regionals, and continued on to place sixteenth in State.

When asked who taught them to play golf Senior Derek "Colic" Johns said that he learned from Doug Booth, a pro at the Pine Valley Country Club. On the other hand, Senior Brad "the mooch" Stahlhut was taught by his father.

An inside joke that Shane asked to be included deals with the Wawasee Invitational where Brad was beaten by a "woman golfer" 84-90.

The golf team was fortunate to have four-year veteran Senior Sarah Meehan return. The Chargers, however, added some also very impressive rookies to the team this year.

After being "caged" in for almost three months, Mr. Moran, the coach, was proud of the Varsity's achievements. The Varsity had a final record of nine losses and seven wins, while the reserves went out with five losses and five wins.

Through the season, the tennis team developed an authentic mascot. This mascot was a 1965 Pontiac Starchief. It is a big, dusty-blue car driven by Junior Scott Lahrman. The team is proud of this car.

Being proud of cars is one thing, but the pride players take in their team is what makes them good. This year's team had a lot of leadership, dedication and quality in its performance. Even though the records may not have shown it, the team made a double-great effort.

Swinging Double

Carroll's women's tennis team had its ups and downs this year. The varsity team did not have much experience and, therefore, had to put forth effort in every match. "The girls really tried hard but unfortunately their season record does not show it," commented Coach Haines. The junior varsity, on the other hand, ended up with a winning season. The varsity tennis team lost their opening match to a tough South Side team. Winning for Carroll were Monica Kohart and Amy Buroker. Bouncin' with the Boys

The 87-88 basketball season has seen the end to a long tradition of two point field shots. The three point shot line has been added to the high school courts. No longer are lay ups the "in" shot; long shots that swoosh through the basket are what keeps the crowd cheering. Led by Senior Brad Walleen, the basketball team at Carroll High School has taken full advantage of the three point shot.

The Carroll Varsity Team finished with a record of 10 wins and 8 losses. The ACAC Tournament ended for Carroll in the first round when they were defeated by the champions, Norwell. The final score was 42 to 58. After the Tournament, Carroll exploded with a six game winning streak. However, they lost the sectional to Columbia City with a score of 44 to 47.

The Reserve Team finished with a record of 10 wins and 10 losses. This included the championship of the Reserve tournament where Carroll defeated Woodlan. "I feel that the team is still young; but in two years, when we're Seniors, we could really be a basketball power in the area."—Sophomore Nick Roe.—Krista King

Up and Over

This year many records were broken and 1987-1988 turned out to be the best year in the history of Carroll's gymnastics team. This award-winning team placed third at Sectionals. Senior Christi Bowers qualified for State by placing third on the beam at Regionals.

"Gymnasts learn to overcome fear," stated Senior Christi Bowers, and she certainly has by practicing while her arm was still in a sling. — Now if that's not determination! Christi's best event is beam but "Bars is my hardest event because it takes a lot of muscles I don't have," Christi said. She lettered all four years in gymnastics.

Vice-principal Dean Gorsuch stated, "This is the best gymnastics team Carroll's ever had and should be congratulated." Even with a set back, Christi Bowers' injury, the other team members gave 110% to make up for the events Christi couldn't compete in and did an outstanding job. — Andrea Aikman

Flamed to Win

This year was the first year that soccer was considered a sport at Carroll. The past three years soccer was considered an activity. This year the Charger soccer team proved to the Charger fans that they can compete and win against the larger city schools. For example, the Charger soccer team played a tough game against South Side with the ending score showing a Charger victory of three to zero. During that game Senior Jeff Reece had one unassisted goal and Junior Rob Geist scored two goals with assists from Sophomore Walt Layman and Senior Chris Rooks. Another Charger win was over Huntington North with a score of three to one. Goals made against Huntington North were by Sophomore Todd Wilson and Rooks while Junior T.D. Rolf had one assist. The team also had some disappointing games too. Although they played a very physical game against Northrop, Northrop ended up getting one goal to make the final score: Chargers zero-Northrop one.

Thanks should go to two members of the Fort Wayne Flames, Alan Bodenstein and Rob Poursanidis, for giving up their free time. "Having them for coaches has been a fun and learning experience", commented Senior Kevin Kohart. — Rachelle Geller

Take Down

Another meet approaches and the wrestlers start to prepare themselves. Not only do the Charger wrestlers have to concentrate on the techniques and skills involved, but also on maintaining the proper weight. The wrestlers have a three pound lee-way on either side of their wrestling weight. Trying to keep within their weight class, one can see a wrestler doing some very strange things. The most obvious would be to see one not eating. Some other ways to lose weight fast would be to wear layers upon layers of clothing, and one can even find wrestlers constantly spitting. On the other side of the problem would be to gain a couple of pounds. The best way to do this would be to eat pasta or any food with carbohydrates.

The Carroll wrestling team was in top condition and finished its season with a 11-1 record. They also placed first in the East Noble Invitational, third in the Concordia Invitational, second at the ACAC Tourney, first in Sectionals and Regionals, and fourteenth in Semi-State. Giving Your All

The men's track team did everything they could to prepare for A.C.A.C. Their coach, Mr. Tom Keefer, believed that they were fully capable of winning the Conference and they did.

Coach Keefer believes in his team and what they can do. Each year after the first meet the team sits down as a group and each individual sets his own personal goal for the season.

Coach Keefer believes that a coach's job is to get all team members to give their best at all times.

"Always give 100% and don't worry about whether you win or lose, as long as you do your best."

It is very noticeable, Coach Keefer, that you have done a fine job showing the members of the Carroll track team what competition and coaching are all about. — Sheila Maloley

Track Talk

"A winning track attitude and conscientiousness are two constant factors in making a record-breaking track team." Mr. McKinney, the track coach at CHS for seven years, emphasizes these traits over and over again. Junior Amy Reed was a prime example of what Mr. McKinney strives for. "She has a positive mental attitude and has worked hard to improve her time," he stated.

Uncertain of how quickly the large number of freshmen would develop, the coach counted a great deal on Brennan, Lawson, and Reed for strength. Junior Kim Brennan excelled in the hurdles. Sophomore Kim Lawson was strong in distance, and Sophomore Terri Grimm achieved much success in her field events.

Sophomore Kim Lawson broke the school record last year in the 3200 meter. She had a special technique that helped her enjoy this highly demanding sport. "Sometimes I take songs from choir and change the words to make running more fun. Usually when you sing or just whistle a tune, the time goes by a lot faster." Obviously track is not all fun," explained Lawson. "The worst part is the constant pressure of living up to what people expect of you." — Lori Noffze

Breaking Away

Congratulations goes out to each member of Carroll's baseball team for a season that no one will forget. Records were being broken and games were being won. For example, the varsity baseball team has a new win-loss record for the season. They did this by having an outstanding record of 20-5 (as of May 16). Other records that were broken during the season were RBI by Senior Scott Pfafman, and Junior Chris Schoch, on base and runs scored by Senior Joe Rudolph, and stolen bases by Senior Eric Stout.

The Chargers beat our main rivals, the Churubusco Eagles, with a score of 20-8. Joe Rudolph went four for four hitting two singles, one double and one triple. Junior Jim Fox went four for four hitting three singles. Scott Pfafman went three for three hitting two doubles and Stout went three for four hitting single, double, and a homerun. Schoch also hit a homerun. Senior Brad Walleen pitched the entire game. On the Double

Have you ever seen the girls that work the concession stands or cheer on the wrestlers during a wrestling match? These are Carroll's matmaids. The matmaids show their support by decorating pillow cases, lockers, and giving apples to the wrestlers after a match. "Although it has taken a lot of time and effort, being a Matmaid has been a lot of fun, and I am looking forward to next year's season," says Junior Jody Queen.

The Pom-pons and Matmaids both cheer on the Chargers in exciting ways. As the Pom-pons move gracefully to the music, the Matmaids cheer on the wrestlers at matches.

This year two outstanding Pom-pon members, Senior Jill Harris and Junior Wendy Kurtz, were chosen to participate in the Aloha Bowl Parade in Hawaii. The students had an awesome time. However, when asked if they would return again, Senior Jill Harris replied: "Even though my trip was a once in a lifetime experience, if I had the chance to perform in the Aloha Bowl again I would probably pass it up. It was a lot of fun but it was also a lot of money! Christmas just wasn't the same away from my family and Fort Wayne." Junior Wendy Kurtz had a differing opinion: "I had a fabulous time and would love to go back."—Christi Bowers

Cheerleaders in the Public Eye

Cheerleaders work as a unit for the good of all: "as one" for one main purpose. They provoke excitement and put pep into the crowds at home and pep sessions.

This is the glamorous part of being a cheerleader. But what about the hard work and dedication of the group? They practice two times every week after school and also have additional practices before tournaments and conferences. They cheer at one or two games a week and sometimes three.

They influence whether we win or lose games. The cheerleaders reflect the image of the student body. The games just wouldn't be the same without them.

First Pitch First Season Double Pressure

What has the attitude been toward Carroll's first year of softball?

"We have had a lot of cooperation from the players. The two toughest positions to fill are the pitcher and catcher. Junior Angie Goelz has done a great job catching. Juniors Dawn Freeman, Amanda Wireman and Senior June Winkler have provided real steady plan," commented Coach Liz Spencer.

There have been some factors this year that have caused the team to become frustrated. The team is not strong in defense, the weather has not been too great, and the team lacks experience. Although the enthusiasm was a little down, the team has been putting forth effort in every game. While defense was not as strong as anticipated, the offense has been much stronger than expected. The spirit of the team is summed up in Junior Starr Kleeberg's words: "I think we are pretty good considering a first year team, but we need to work more as a unit, and not so much as individuals." — Kim Mark

Looks Like We Made It

Remember when we were in the First Grade and thought the Eighth Graders were "so big" because they could change classes and did not have to hold hands whey they walked down the hallway. Then we finally became Freshmen but still felt inferior to the Seniors. We never thought we would be able to drive, let alone actually be real-life Seniors!

But, we were finally Seniors and memories filled our minds as we thought back to all the wonderful recollections of high school: staying up late finishing the term paper we had known about for two months or perhaps the Friday and Saturday nights we spent with friends attempting to get school out of our minds.

As we look back, we remember the good times and the bad. Senior June Winkler remembered "Mr. Keefer's Algebra II class- I never thought I would get through that class." Senior Matt Freck said, "The hardest part of high school was Mrs. Yates' Grading scale" where as Senior Mark Belot found it hard to just "STAY AWAKE."

The best four years of our lives rapidly came to an end but our dissatisfaction was overcome with the thought of college and entering the real world. Senior Karla Fadden said it best: "The worst thing about knowing it's my last year is that soon I'll have to 'grow up' and face the real world."

However, as graduation night finally rolled around, it really did feel like "WE HAD MADE IT!"

Friends Double the Importance of Life.

Throughout each person's life, somewhere along the way you meet someone who you will always remember. Whether it's when you're in Kindergarten or your junior year of high school, you always have that someone special...

... The friend that you can always depend on to listen to your problems, standby you when you make the wrong decisions, and who is always there to cheer you on...

... The friend you can share your secrets with, laugh and sometimes cry with ... A friend who accepts you for who you are.

A friendship is a heart-to-heart relationship; an inside warmth that flows between two people.

Doubling up on Life

"I was practically born on horseback," commented Junior LeAnn Collier.

The Collier family has always had horses and LeAnn rode with her parents until she got a pony at the age of five. She has been in Allen County 4-H for seven years and has won numerous awards in local and area shows and the Indiana State Fair. At the 1987 Indiana State Fair, she was a finalist for the Indiana Quarter Horse Association Yearling Award, an award for a 1-year-old quarter horse to an outstanding 4-H'er.

"Horses are definitely a lot of hard work, but the awards and accomplishments make it all worth the effort." LeAnn puts in a lot of hours training and preparing her horses for show. She hopes that she will always have the opportunity for horses to remain a large part of her life.

LeAnn is involved in many school and extracurricular activities. But she still finds time to lead a double life... involving her horses.

Making the Grade

The traditional lamp of learning continued to burn brightly November 19 as thirty-eight new members were inducted into the National Honor Society. In order to be inducted, students must be juniors or seniors, carry a B+ grade point average, and have scholarship, service, and leadership characteristics. When asked how she felt when she heard her description and name being read, Junior Sara Kubik replied, "It was quite a surprise. My mom told me that no one called her about it at home (they did call her at work, however!) I was really excited."

On May 16th, Carroll hosted the annual Honor Awards Night. The Valedictorian, Sharyn Oliver, and Salutatorian, Karla Fadden were introduced. Students were recognized for High Honors, Honors with Distinction, perfect attendance, and various scholarships and awards.

Both NHS members and Honors Award recipients found that they had one thing in common . . . they all made the grade.

The Finishing Touch

Just when every senior was ready to forget, for a while anyways, that there is such an hour as 5:30 in the morning they found themselves struggling once again to get out of bed so they could be at Carroll High School for the last time, for their annual Senior Breakfast. This event was held on May 23, 1988 at the early hour of 6:30 a.m. The turnout was tremendous and everyone feasted on a breakfast of eggs, hash browns, biscuits 'n gravy, fresh fruit, rolls, milk, juice, and coffee.

After breakfast everyone adjourned to the auditorium for the Senior Roast. Gifts such as a T-shirt that said "#1 Stalsmooch" was given out to Brad Stalhaut for being the class mooch. A stuffed mouse was given to Scott Freck for his affection for mice which was displayed to the school on May 16, and there were other gifts given out to Rod Myers, Cindy Smith, Joe Rudolph, and Shane Marker.

Once the Senior Roast was over, the 1987-88 senior gift was announced. The senior gift was to a 1987 graduate of Carroll, Terry Sible. Terry was injured in a tragic car accident that left him paralyzed from the waist down. With the money gathered from the selling of the senior wills and the senior parent donations, the seniors bought and built a deck for Terry and his family.

The slide show, which was presented by Sarah Meehan, focused upon the craziness, the silliness, the rowdiness, the seriousness, and the sadness that the seniors had during their 1987-88 school year here at Carroll.

The second Tammy Smith scholarship was given to Sharri Hefner. This scholarship is given out to a member of the senior class that demonstrates outstanding leadership and spirit both inside and outside of school. Sharri was nominated for this scholarship by her classmates and then chosen by certain staff members.

Another activity that the seniors have to participate in, in order to graduate is graduation rehearsal. This was the seniors' last time before graduating to be together as a group and have fun. — Rachele Geller

Cheers Bring Tears

"It's over!" they shouted when they tossed up their hats. But was it over? Was it the end or was it a new beginning? When the seniors of '88 look back on their high school years, some of them will remember wonderful things. "High school holds many memories for me — the most special being my relationship with Todd," stated Senior Tonya Kelder.

Then again others will be faced with the memories of early mornings, late nights, and homework. "I'll miss my friends and being on National Honor Society but I won't miss eight hour days, strict rules, and getting up in the morning. It's been fun" added Senior Tina Zern. When the graduates picked up their hats, the cheers changed to tears and they went their separate ways . . . only to being again. — Lori Noffze

Senior Cheryl Durling moves her tassel to left as the traditional signal that she is now a Carroll High School graduate. — Lori Noffze

Seniors Todd Brinker and Tonya Kelder, friends for life, congratulate each other after four years of study — Lori Noffze

Seniors Melanee Dooley and Mark DeWitt pass the spark of friendship during Jarrod Lawson's song, "What a Wonderful World." — Lori Noffze

Senior Class President Sherrie Fisher, Valedictorian Sharryn Oliver, and Salutatorian Karla Fadden, all speakers at the ceremony, reflect upon the Senior class's gift of an accessible porch and ramp for Terry Sible, a former graduate. — Lori Noffze

Fort Wayne attributes a variety of PLACES TO GO. A lot of students visit the fast food restaurants after games of the most common place Pizza Hut. Janet Reed, junior, said, "My favorite fast food is Arby's and I always order two juniors, small fry, and small drink for the cost of $3.20."

Many of us just drive around town to find parties or other interesting events. Eric Linnemeier said, "I like driving down Pearl Street and yelling bad things at the gay people."

Many people believe Fort Wayne is rather boring, Fort Wayne is only as fun as you make it.

School started off with a boom and many students wanted to know what they could do.

The beginning of the year starts with Homecoming which consisted of a dance and game. This was a week to show our spirit for CHS.

Winter comes around and students attended the second annual Semi-Formal Dance. This is a time of joy and giving our love to each other.

After Christmas vacation, the times seems like so long till our next vacation. Then the sun and heat waves break out. Florida! This is what many of the students said.

As the school year came to an end we heard the cries of many people when their friends graduated and were off to college.

When the year came to an end, we had to say we had the time of our lives.

PEOPLE TO SEE

Carroll is located near a large enough city to have the great advantage of many local social service agencies. In any crisis situation, just one phone call can provide you with the help you need to make it through troubled times. These people to see can give the maximum help at minimal cost. The professionals employed by social agencies can be the friend you need when crisis strikes.

'People to see' in the Fort Wayne area include the following agencies:

Child Protection Services	428-7138
Crossroad- Ft. Wayne Children's Home	484-4153
Family & Children's Services Inc.	744-4326
First Call for Help	426-4357
Hope Alive	486-6100
Switchboard Crisis Hotline	456-4561
Three Rivers Youth Shelter	745-7914
United Way of Allen County	422-4776
Welfare Dept. of Allen County	425-4100

These are only a sample of the resources available—PEOPLE TO SEE in times of need.

Colophon

The twentieth volume of the Cavalier was published by Herff Jones Yearbooks in Montgomery, Alabama, using offset lithography on eighty pound gloss enamel paper. The press run was four hundred forty copies. All written copy was set in varying type-faces and point sizes found in the Herff Jones Deluxe Type Program. The cover is produced using offset lithography with Ultra Blue Ink on white litho material. Hot lamination was applied to the cover for protection purposes. The endsheet is printed in the four color process.

Dear Student body,

Now that the 1987-88 school year has passed, we are left with many memories.

I hope this book serves you well when later in life — perhaps twenty or more years from now — you want to relive a special event or to get in touch with a certain someone and just can't remember his or her last name.

I hope this book brings back fond memories of your high school years, and you smile when you remember how you looked when you were a sophomore or when you had a crush on the guy or girl who sat behind you in your junior English class or when you cheered on your last day of school as a senior.

I hope you can remember the things that made 87-88 special: the new junior high (or rather getting rid of the freshmen), Christi Bowers winning State on the beam, creating the Intouchables, reestablishing the C-Club, the first MORP, Dena Felger winning the Sterling Sentinell Award in Creative Writing, the golf team becoming Sectional Champions, the outdoor barbeque picnic (It was freezing!), and your own personal memories of Homecoming and Prom (and after-prom, if you can remember it).

I hope, too, that this book can be your link to the memories of CHS in years to come.

Stay in touch!

Sophomore Lori Lee and Junior Bonnie McCorkle reflect school spirit by wearing hats on Hat Day to support the football team during Sectionals. — Heather Sielicki

By looking at Senior Rod Goelz's eyes, one can tell that he believes in the tradition of the mistle toe. Senior Gina Brown aids Rod while Sophomore Heather Gochenaur wonders if he's just using an old line to win her heart. — Lori Noffze

Go to Opening pages. The gumwrappers seen there seem to have reproduced! Actually, Senior Paul Abel went through a pack to a pack and a half of Big Red a day to fill his locker. Here Paul is during the Seniors' last week putting the hundreds of wrappers into a garbage bag. — Tim Arens

Congrats
